Investment Philosophy

The Taylor Frigon Core Growth Fund (symbol TFCGX), seeks long term capital appreciation. We look to invest in what we believe to be strong, well-run businesses at the leading edge of global economic trends - companies that have revenue and earnings growth that are not yet well-recognized or fully valued. Our thorough research process is built on the Growth Stock Theory of Investing developed by Thomas Rowe Price and furthered by his colleague, Richard C. Taylor. The Fund invests in what we believe to be high-growth businesses and owns them for many years until their value is fully realized. We look to identify the world's next great growth companies: the innovators that solve problems, create new markets, and improve our world.

Investment Process

The Taylor Frigon Core Growth Fund (the "Fund"), under normal market conditions, invests primarily in common stocks of companies of all sizes, including small and micro-capitalization companies that Taylor Frigon Capital Management LLC (the "Advisor"), the Fund's investment advisor, believes have excellent growth prospects. The Fund generally holds 30-50 companies and may invest in foreign securities, including American Depositary Receipts (ADRs). The Advisor applies a proprietary selection process called the TFCM Core Growth Strategy when selecting investments for the Fund.

Total returns presented for periods less than one year are cumulative, returns for periods greater than one year are annualized. Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. You may obtain performance data current to the most recent month-end by calling 1-888-897-4821.

All returns include changes in share price, and reinvestment of any dividends and capital gains distributions. Indices shown are broad-based, unmanaged indices commonly used to measure performance of US stocks. These indices do not incur expenses and are not available for investment. The S&P Mid Cap 400® Index measures the performance of the mid-capitalization segment of the U.S. equity universe. The Index is a capitalization weighted index composed of 400 domestic common stocks

The fund's expense ratio is 1.45%. A redemption fee of 2% will be charged on shares if sold within 90 days of purchase. Short-term performance, in particular, is not a good indication of the fund's future performance, and an investment should not be made based solely on returns.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The Morningstar Rating does not include any adjustment for sales loads. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10- year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods.

Taylor Frigon Core Growth Fund was rated against the following numbers of Small Growth funds over the following time periods: 580 funds in the last three years; 521 funds in the last 5 years. There is no Morningstar rating for 10yr period. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
